Write down 3 significant things you have learned from the reading material, explain why and how you will utilize this knowledge in your future teaching: (1) As a teacher I need to use formative assessment as a channel for further learning. Now I understand that formative assessment will help me understand where my student's development and cognition stand and what I need to teach and how I need to assist them for further development. (2) Assessment centered learning concentrates on understanding and provides feedback of progress. As a teacher in the future I will strive to use this method to try and assess how my student's are learning before it's too late for me to help them. (3) Community centered learning is when students feel comfortable actively learning and taking risks. These students's aren't afraid to participate. As a teacher it will be my responsibility to set the tone of the classroom as warm and welcoming. Making sure everyone is treated with respect and everyone feels comfortable sharing and volunteering.
